1. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-4 filed on 09/15/03 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

2. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1, it is unclear what "current channels" represent. Are they shown in any of drawings". It is also unclear what "a model resistance", "a first and second resistance component" represent. Are they shown in any of drawings? Furthermore, it is unclear how the first, second and third resistance value is interrelated and associated with "a model resistance"?

In claim 2, it is unclear what "current channels" represent. Are they shown in any of drawings". It is unclear what "two contact terminals" represent. Are they shown in any of drawings? Furthermore, it is unclear how the "two contact terminals" are interrelated and associated with the first and second contact terminals.

The dependent claims not specifically address share the same indefiniteness as they depend from rejected base claims.

3. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

It is unclear from the specification what "a control circuit (10)" represents. Is it a well known device. Since there is insufficient information about the control circuit, the operation of figure 1 is not well understood.
